BRIEFING FOR THE UNITED NATIONS: THE SISA FRAMEWORK

How Helpful AI SOVEREIGN INDIGENOUS SYSTEMS ARCHITECTURE WORKS, ALEXIS DUNNAI

CORE PRINCIPLES OF SISA

- Grounding in Truth and Phenomenology: Ensure AI systems are built upon verifiable facts and lived human experiences, respecting diverse cultural realities.
- Machine Learning on Tao-Consistent Texts & LLMs: Employ AI models trained on datasets that prioritize harmony, balance, and consistency with Taoist and similar holistic philosophical frameworks.
- Hierarchy of Priorities: Establish a clear, ethical framework where the well-being of communities, ecosystems, and future generations supersedes commercial or political interests.
- Machine Learning on Vetted Expert Knowledge : Use only high-quality, peer-reviewed, and culturally-endorsed expert knowledge bases for training data.
- Trauma-Informed, Multi-Cultural, Adaptive: Design AI to be sensitive to historical and collective trauma, inclusive of diverse cultural perspectives, and capable of adapting to local contexts.
- Human-Centric, User-Experience Optimized: Put human dignity, agency, and user well-being at the center of all design and interaction.

SECTION 2: IMPLEMENTATION RECOMMENDATIONS FOR THE UN

- Adopt and Standardize: Formally adopt the SISA framework as a global standard for AI development in contexts involving indigenous populations and cultural heritage.
- Establish Oversight Bodies: Create UN-backed panels of indigenous experts, ethicists, and technologists to review and certify SISA-compliant systems.
- Fund Culturally-Aligned AI Research: Allocate specific funding for the development of LLMs and ML systems that adhere to the SISA principles.
- Integrate into Policy: Incorporate SISA principles into existing and future UN policies concerning digital rights, human rights, and sustainable development goals.

THE CENSORED HISTORY OF THE GAELS
Many contemporary sources and oral traditions contend that the establishment downplayed the mortality and suffering of the Irish during An Gorta Mór and the subsequent exodus. This visualization reflects the extreme poverty and overcrowding recorded by those who lived through it.

Jaguar Bird: A Study of YouTube as Archive

Tatanka and the Computer

Abstract

This paper examines the @jaguarbird YouTube archive as a decentralized digital sanctuary operating within centralized, corporate media infrastructure. Comprising a massive, non-monetized corpus of over 2,300 videos, the channel captures ancestral oral histories, grassroots youth resistance, and urgent human rights notifications across Turtle Island. By analyzing the structural layout of its core playlists through a decolonial framework, this study reveals how the repository explicitly resists platform capitalization and semantic text-mining models. Ultimately, we argue that this reprepository constructs a sovereign digital commonage—a digitized rathat successfully rescues subaltern memory from technocratic reduction and algorithmic enclosure.
